Blogging terms and vocabulary

Across

2. Controls the look of your blog.

4. These are what you add to sidebars.

7. Here is where your readers can reply to what you write, share their thoughts, provide feedback, leave links, and create a general discussion.

8. Similar to posts, but are best for "static" content which you want to always be accessible and doesn't change to often. Like your About me.

Down

1. Area of your blog where the blog title and main navigation menu is displayed.

3. This is the back-end area of your blog where you make changes and edits. This area is not seen by the public and only accessible the blog user.

5. Area of your blog where widgets are located.

6. The basic entries of blogs where you publish your thoughts. Normally displayed on the front page of your blog with the most recent post at the top.